🏰 Bandhavgarh: Where History Meets the Wild 🐅

Bandhavgarh isn't just about tigers—it's a land of legends. At its heart stands the 2,000-year-old Bandhavgarh Fort, believed to have been gifted by Lord Rama to his brother Lakshmana. Scattered around the park are ancient caves, inscriptions, and statues, including a massive 35-ft reclining Vishnu idol, silently witnessing centuries of change.

Today, the true guardians of these ruins are the majestic tigers that roam the fort's dense forests. The fusion of history, mythology, and wildlife makes Bandhavgarh a one-of-a-kind destination for both photographers and explorers. 📖 🐾
